

The Danish Soil Science Society (DFJ) call for abstracts
DFJ student seminar – World soil day – DFJ 90-year celebration – all in one

Wednesday December 5th 2018
Thorvaldsensvej 40, 1871 Frederiksberg C
Rooms R645-646, 6th floor

The Danish Soil Science Society (DFJ) student day

DFJ invites to a half-day seminar for BSc, MSc and Ph.D. students with interest in soil. All are welcome – bachelor, master and Ph.D. level from soil education institutions across Denmark to meet and be acquainted. Share your work in a 15 min talk and get feedback and inspiration from fellow students and colleagues within soil science. The topic is broad – experimental work, modelling and mapping of chemical, biological, soil physics, environmental chemistry or biogeochemical properties and processes.

Send a title + 150 word abstract and a three-line bio (who you are) to Karina Knudsmark Sjøholm (kajnje@env.dtu.dk) before November 23rd if you would like to present at the seminar.

90-year celebration

After the student seminar, we will celebrate the 90-year old Dansk Forening for Jordbundsvidenskab with a reception for members and guests with delicious snacks and drinks, talks and free networking. Professor Ole K. Borggaard will give a talk on the history of soil science in Denmark.

Preliminary programme:

14.00	Welcome and tribute to world soil day by chairman Bjarne Strobel
14.10	Student presentations with coffee break at some point
16.00	Birthday reception for DFJ – drinks and snacks

You can become a member of DFJ as a student for only 50 Dkr per year – first calendar year – at no charge.

Register for the seminar and celebration: send mail to ica@ign.ku.dk
